Welcome to Books In Motion

As one of the pioneers of the audiobook industry, Books In Motion has gained a reputation for high-quality audiobook productions in the unabridged format. Books In Motion publishes Mysteries, Romance, Historicals, Westerns, Americana, Classics, Science Fiction, World War, and Christian Fiction.

All phases of the development of a Books In Motion audiobook are accomplished "in house". We do all the recording, editing, high speed duplication, and packaging in our state-of-the-art recording facilities in Spokane, Washington. As a result, we have complete quality control throughout the entire audiobook development process. Our packaging is especially durable. Our vinyl book packs are made to our specifications with tough, heavy-duty vinyl, sturdier backing, and nylon webbing in the spine. Our tapes are the highest quality BASF, proven to hold up under the toughest usage. If they are inadvertently damaged, replacement tapes are always available.

A similar tough criteria applies to our readers. We have auditioned over 500 potential readers and since 1980, only 24 have qualified to be a Books In Motion reader. Our readers are talented professionals and are rated among the best in the country. Past reviews and testimonials contained inside this catalog are testaments to our superior quality. Books In Motion reader, Gene Engene, was rated by both the LA Times and the Philadelphia Inquirer as an equal to Frank Muller.

A Note From the Founder

Dear Listener,

When Books In Motion was started nearly 20 years ago, we decided that if we produced the highest quality audiobooks possible and made them available to the public at a reasonable price, then we could be successful as a business. It worked, and my faith in the ability of the public to recognize true value was justified. Additionally, I felt we had another obligation. We are an audiobook publisher, and as a publisher we have an obligation to the literary arts. We felt it our duty to offer new talented writers an opportunity to reveal their ability in audiobook form. And based on our customer response, we have done a remarkable job. Books In Motion was the first audiobook company to accept new manuscripts, publish them on tape and be successful at it. Why is that? It's because we listened to what our customers wanted, we told our authors what was needed, and they produced it brilliantly. We are especially grateful to you, our customers, to our authors, and to our tremendous readers.

Thank you all for your kind support of Books In Motion.

Gary D. Challender, President

1994	Not a J.P. Beaumont. Set in Arizona, this is the gripping story of Diana Ladd - the hunted. A brutal, psychopathic murderer is released from prison - and stalks Diana with intent to kill.	12 tapes 14.7 Hrs.

Review - FAILURE TO APPEAR

"Engene has a pleasant, gruff, almost gravelly tone, and changes character smoothly through pacing, inflection, and raising or lowering his voice. His no-nonsense rendering is clear, unhurried, and completely in character."

Review - HOOR OF THE HUNTER

KLIATT, May, 1995.

"Rarely do a book and its audio counterpart merge as spectacularly as they do in HOOR OF THE HUNTER."

AudioFile, Nov., 1994.

The Eagle Catcher

by Margaret Coel

6 Cassettes. 6.9 Hrs. 1998. ISBN 1-55686-822-7.

Coel explores the dual nature of the modern Native American experience, progress vs. tradition, in this murder mystery narrated proficiently by Stephanie Brush. Arapaho tribal chair Harvey Castle is found murdered just before an important powwow. Father John O'Malley, a recovering alcoholic exiled to the Wyoming reservation, teams up with tribal attorney Vicky Holden. In their search for the murderer and the truth, they uncover the unsavory side of tribal oil and land deals. Rich characters and a twisting, turning plot make this performance a lively story and well worth purchasing. Recommended for most collections. - Denise Garofalo, Mid-Hudson Library System, Poughkeepsie, NY.

Review - DANGEROUS ODYSSEY

"This interesting and enjoyable mystery weaves historical facts throughout the fictional story. Laurie Klein's pleasing voice enhances the story. Her small child and male characterizations are also well-done, and she does a nice job with British and Scandinavian accents. "

Review - WEB OF DANGER

"Klein does an admirable job of presenting the naive Mathews. She may be naive, but she's nobody's fool. Klein also differentiates well between the three male leads. The overall production is solid and the story moves quickly and has enough tension and action to keep the listener interested."

KLIATT, Nov., 1993.

Fiction

The small town of Ashton is the scene of a terrific battle between evil demons led by Rafar and angelic forces led by Tal in this Christian suspense tale by a best-selling author. Leaders of the human participants are Marshall Hogan, editor of The Clarion, Pastor Hank Busche, their friends, and groups of praying Christians. The battle wages fiercely, working up to a thrilling and satisfying climax. However, the superbly fiendish reading by Jack Sondericker, employing an incredible range of voices, reaches greater heights of horror than does the author's prose. Recommended for popular collections with a wide Christian audience.

ELIZABETH ENGSTROM'S NIGHTMARE FLOWER BRAM STOKER AWARD

1-55686-568-6	1995	 NIGHTMARE FLOWER by Elizabeth Engstrom, read by Marilyn Langbehn. Here is book #1 of 2. Contains quietly unnerving yet eloquent short tales about people, life, and death, that are both moving and thought provoking and in some cases spine-chilling.	$26.95 4 tapes 4.5 Hrs.
1-55686-593-7	1995	 NIGHTMARE FLOWER - Book-2 by Elizabeth Engstrom, read by Marilyn Langbehn. Written in typical Engstrom style providing a slant on life both moving and thought-provoking, these novellas of dark fantasy will mystify and intrigue and nothing is as it appears.	$26.95 4 tapes 5.7 Hrs.

Review - Nightmare Flower

"This is a genuinely imaginative and diverse collection; if one story doesn't seduce and horrify the reader, the next one surely will."
Publishers Weekly, May, 1995.

"Most of the stories are concerned with the deadly fog of intent that slowly creep into the obsessing human brain."
Kirkus Review, July, 1995

Review - MUSTANG FEVER

"As part of the Derby Man series, this story involves the hero's exposure to the extermination of wild mustangs by an unscrupulous rancher. Darby assembles a crew to save the horses. Their suspenseful endeavors are enthusiastically read by Gene Engine. Recommended for Western collections."

Library Journal, September, 1995.

Review - THE PONY EXPRESS WAR

"Gene Engine's reading is, as usual, perfect. This novel is a thrilling mixture of fact and fiction."

Library Journal, October, 1995.

Listener Comment

"I really enjoy your audiobooks. The Derby Man was super good. I'm a long distance truck driver - listening to your audiobooks makes my time go by fast. I especially like Gene Engene as J.P. Beaumont in the J.A. Jance series. I hope there are some new Beaumont mysteries being recorded, I've listened to them all so far. Thanks a lot."

1992	In the world of the South Pacific islands and the rough and ready schooners, Captain David Grief was always ready for the unexpected in his constant search for treasure and power.	4 tapes 5.24 Hrs.

Review - BURNING DAYLIGHT

"The story is a sensitive and stimulating portrayal of London's values and opinions that can also be enjoyed as a tale of romance and adventure. Narrator Tim Behrens captures all of the narrative's rambunctious, vicious, and tender qualities. Libraries should strongly consider purchasing this classic. Library Journal, March, 1993.

Review - THE VALLEY OF THE MOON

"The personal tenets of London--rugged individualism and a strong belief in social Darwinism--are dramatized in his semi-autobiographical novel."

Library Journal, May, 1993.

Review - WHITE FANG

"Engine is expert at bringing out the darker elements of the story. Engine is right up there with Frank Muller who reads for Recorded Books." Philadelphia Inquirer, August, 1990.

1989	 Claim jumpers use city-slicker legal trickery to steal claims from miners during the Alaskan gold rush. "Highly Recommended" by Library Journal.	8 tapes 8.5 Hrs.
1-55686-578-3	GOING SOME by Rex Beach, read by David Sharp.	$26.95
1995	Light-hearted competition exists between two southwest ranches over which ranch has the fastest foot racer. The victory cup is an Echo phonograph, one of the few in that locale.	4 tapes 5 Hrs.
1-55686-366-7	HEART OF THE SUNSET by Rex Beach, read by Gene Engene.	$44.95
1991	Texas Ranger David Law and Alaire Austin, a woman of courage, experience danger and romance in an exciting story set against the backdrop of the Mexican revolution.	8 tapes 11.5 Hrs.

Review - THE SPOILERS

"An absorbing tale of the Klondike, based on Beach's own attempt to participate in the gold rush. The dramatic reading by Jack Sondericker greatly enhances the story. Highly recommended."
Library Journal, November, 1990.

Review - WINDS OF CHANCE

"For fiction so masculine, the women characters are admirably independent and resourceful. The high moral tone is refreshing. Very wholesome, very entertaining."
KLIATT, July, 1995.

KAY L. McDONALD

1-55686-493-0	THE VISION OF THE EAGLE (Book #1) by Kay L. McDonald, read by Laurie Klein.	$59.95
1994	Abigail's New England roots left her ill prepared to cope as the captive of a Sioux chieftain. But inner strength gave her a means of survival even as she bore a new child.	12 tapes 14.5 Hrs.
1-55686-488-4	JOURNEY ON THE WIND (Book #2) by Kay L. McDonald, read by Mary Starkey.	$59.95
1994	 Abigail's child, Ross, is now a man and a legend on the frontier. Some said he was a white renegade, others that he had Indian blood. But when he saved Marlette's life she knew.	12 tapes 13.3 Hrs.
1-55686-494-9	THE VISION IS FULFILLED (Book #3) by Kay L. McDonald, read by Laurie Klein.	$59.95
1994	 Together, as man and wife, Ross and Marlette look forward to a glorious new life in the untamed Oregon Territory and a stirring destiny that would test a defiant man's courage.	12 tapes 14.8 Hrs.

Review - JOURNEY ON THE WIND

"Mary Starkey reads slowly and precisely, portraying the tense moments without rushing. The French and Scottish ascent are well done, and the jovial personality of a French trapper is very evident. "
AudioFile, August, 1994.

Review - THE VISION IS FULFILLED

"Laurie Klein's expressive interpretation helps the listener feel the pain endured by immigrants traveling by wagon train.

Review - THE SECRET GARDEN

"While the three unabridged versions are each performed dramatically, they vary greatly. Klein provides a clear, sweet delivery. Her phrasing and character voices create a comfortably easy listening experience that will delight all ages.
KLIATT, November, 1992.

Review - THE PRETTY SISTER OF JOSE

"Narrator Klein's performance is brilliantly in tune with the tale. Her voices are vividly delineated. She moves with transparent ease from warm and amused narrator to the main characters."
Library Journal, January, 1991.

1991	Three young boys, in medieval Austria, experience a visit by a strange and enchanted boy who reveals himself as an angel of a god named Satan.	4 tapes 4.5 Hrs.

Review - THE ADVENTURES OF HUCKLEBERRY FINN

"The recording from Books In Motion is probably the best of those now on the market. Tim Behrens' dramatic narration, with its dazzling array of accents and voices, is a virtuoso performance.
AudioFile, October, 1994.

"Tim Behrens' Huckleberry is the youngest sounding, therefore, the most believable. His pacing is good as is his understanding of the novel, and his sincerity in transmitting it excites the listener. Behrens acting ability carries the day, and we are treated to the feast of voices and dialects that make up, in large part, the magic of The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn."

Review - ANNE OF GREEN GABLES

"Reader Klein's style brings out all the humor and exuberance of the characters. The language of the story is perfect for the audiobook format."
KLIATT, July, 1993.

Review - ANNE OF AVONLEA

"The reading is crisp and clear but warm and suitable for the changes in tempo necessary to project feelings, or "soul," as Anne describes it. Klein's understanding of the characters and her interpretations are fitting and true."

Listener Comment

KLIATT, November, 1993.

Review - BLACKBIRD PIE & OTHER STORIES

"This set of four short stories by a master of the form all feature incessant conversations about marriage, family, and loss. Reader Tim Behrens gives a good performance; his vocal inflections easily delineate the characters, and the cadence of his delivery is brisk. Recommended." Library Journal, September, 1992.

Comments on the written work - WHAT WE TALK ABOUT WHEN WE TALK ABOUT LOVE

"In his second collection of stories, as in his first, Carver's characters are peripheral people--people too unimaginative to even give up. Carver celebrates these men and women."

The Publisher, April, 1994.

Review - JUST SO STORIES

"Narrator Laurie Klein gives a spirited reading of the stories, Kipling's famous descriptive phrases and names tripping appreciately off her tongue. Other versions of the Just So Stories, such as Recorded Books complete and unabridged recording, are available, but Klein's rendition is one that children will especially enjoy."

Library Journal, April, 1992.

Books In Motion Easy ORDER 1-800-752-3199 FAX 1-509-922-1445

Ordering Information

1-800-752-3199

Club Membership:

Books In Motion rental and purchase prices are especially competitive. In order to keep the prices competitive, we utilize a club system which allows us to easily define our customers within our database. The cost for lifetime membership is a mere $5.00 and helps offset some of the customer setup costs that would ordinarily be reflected in our prices. The membership card gives you excellent advantages. First, you can rent our audiobooks in participating truckstops throughout the nation. You can rent at one truckstop location and drop the audiobooks off at any other participating location in any state. A great convenience for vacationers or salespeople who travel. Second, if you purchase our audiobooks your card also entitles you to a 20% discount off the catalog price. Third, your card also allows you to rent by mail with a convenient postage return system. Fourth, your card gives you longer rental periods of your choice.

Mail Order Rental:

Mail order rental is simple. Use a copy of the order form on the left and list what you want. Send it or fax it to us along with credit card info or a check. Or feel free to use our 800 order number, a real person will answer the telephone. But we are only available from 8am until 6pm, M-F, west coast time. We'll ship your order to you along with a return mailing bag and you can simply drop the audiobooks in a mailbox. The mail bags are postage paid and pre-addressed for return to Books In Motion. Incidentally, the more audiobooks you rent at one time, the longer your rental period will be. You get 2 days rental period for each individual cassette tape you rent. Rent one 6-tape audiobook and you get 12 days rental period. Rent two 6-tape audiobooks, you get 24 days rental period. Rent six 6-tape audiobooks, you get 72 days rental period. You can keep them all for the full 72 days.

Mail Order Purchase:

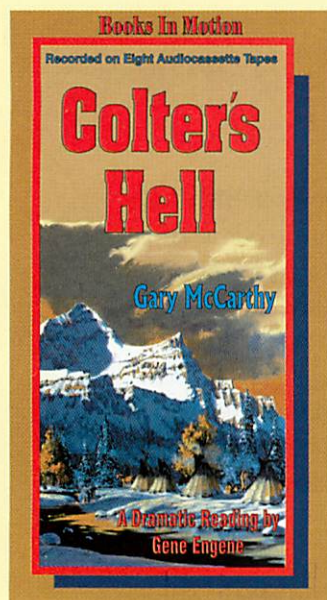

Your membership card entitles you to purchase any audiobook in our catalog at a 20% discount. Simply use the order form at the left or feel free to call. Replacement tapes are always available for any audiobook listed in our catalog.

Website Orders:

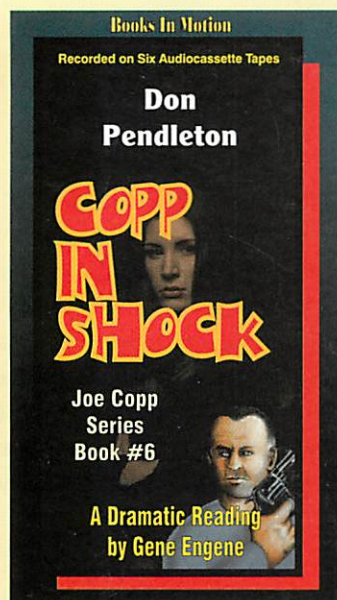

As this catalog is being assembled, so too is our website. The website will be available by the time you receive this catalog. You can contact our website at, www.booksinmotion.com, anytime. Complete ordering information, and catalog listings will be available on our website. You can order safely with your credit card, our website is secure. Be certain to list your telephone number in case we have a problem with your order. Thank you for your interest in Books In Motion audiobooks.

Rent six or more audiobooks by mail at one time and you get a free rental coupon that can be used with your next order.
